

"The Native American has been like a sleeping giant. He is awakening. The original Americans could become the evangelists who will help win America for Christ!"

-Billy Graham

CARRY THE CURE, INC

CARRY THE CURE is a non-profit, interdenominational ministry networking the body of Christ to equip the church to evangelize the lost. Our emphasis is to train the church how to minister to the Alaskan Natives, First Nations and Aboriginal People of the world. We do this in a way that restores dignity and self respect, as well as restoring the unique gifts that Creator has given to them so that they may use them for His glory.

We accomplish this in a number of ways.

1. Outreach

- *village and reservation outreach
- *evangelism training
- *evangelism services
- *honoring ceremonies/potlucks
- *cultural celebrations and concerts with Broken Walls
- *mission outreaches

2. Equipping

The CTC team is available for ministry in the local church. We believe because of Ephesians 4:11 and 12 that we are to equip and motivate the body of Christ for ministry. Our ministry team is prepared to serve local churches in several areas:

- *preaching and teaching
- *conferences
- *revival meetings
- *youth leadership training
- *worship seminars
- *native ministry trainings

3. School Assemblies and Community Workshops

*"Committed to Life" suicide prevention school assemblies, gatekeeper training and workshops.

- *drug and alcohol prevention
- *self worth and cultural presentations

4. Broken Walls and Carry the Cure Partnership

Broken Walls, an internationally accomplished Native American band and ministry, partners with Carry the Cure on a regular basis. Together they provide communities with dynamic/life changing events, concerts and worship experiences that lead to reconciliation, relationship, partnership and ultimately to revival. Bill Pagaran has been the drummer for this internationally award-winning band since 2005. Please visit Broken Walls on the internet at www.brokenwalls.com
